

PRESS RELEASE

Kingsbury Mews showcased at pre-release event

Thomas Homes is showcasing its Kingsbury Mews development, which is exclusively for the over 55s, at a pre-release event. Taking place in the Thomas Homes' Sales Centre in the Carter Jonas' office at 42 High Street, Marlborough, SN8 1HQ, interested parties will be able to learn more about the prestigious properties on Friday 30 and Saturday 31 July, from 10.00am to 5.00pm on Friday and 10.00am to 1.00pm on Saturday.

The small development of just 12 three and four bedroom homes, which are due to be completed in early 2011 and are priced from £475,000, is set in an unrivalled location in private grounds behind the old Kingsbury House School, within walking distance of the bustling High Street. Featuring the highest design and build standards, the houses range in size from approximately 1,200 to 2,000 sq ft with additional sun rooms in selected properties.

The Mews encompasses the classical architectural character of Marlborough and its individual design details include graceful arches and sash windows, together with high quality fixtures and fittings such as handmade kitchens. Enjoying easily manageable patio gardens and allocated parking, the development also benefits from communal landscaped gardens.

Thomas Homes is one of the largest privately owned property developers in the south of England and it will soon be bringing to the market Heritage Plaza in Kemble Drive, Swindon, the former locomotive works of the Great Western Railway.
